

As a Servant Leader I embrace the values of creativity, resilience, and inclusivity which are key ingredients in accomplishing great things.

My experience as a leader has enabled me to lend my voice and hear the voices of others all to develop a wholistic and collective approach to teamwork, that becomes transformational.

Embodying that doing the right thing is just as important as doing things right, acknowledging that sometimes status quo isn't good enough, and declaring that failure is not the end but an opportunity to learn and try again... is who I am.

As a Servant Leader, I renew my commitment daily through personal rituals and reflections that ground me in my faith, virtues, and principles which empower my judgment.
